OnProcess announces the Rishi Singh Employee Assistance Fund to help employees and their families through financial hardship due to unexpected disasters

Boston, MA: OnProcess Technology, a global pioneer powering the world's circular service value chains, announced today that it has established the OnProcess Rishi Singh Employee Assistance Fund, created to help employees and their immediate families who face financial hardship due to a natural disaster or other unforeseen and significant events.

Created in response to the tragic loss of two of OnProcess's employees in India – firstly Rishikesh Kumar Singh (or Rishi as he was known to all) due to complications arising from Coronavirus and then subsequently Prabal Dutta just two weeks later – the fund has been set up to help any employee or their immediate family anywhere in the world who suffers financial hardship due to an unforeseen natural disaster such as the Covid epidemic, or other tragic events such as house fires, loss of life or severe injury.

The OnProcess Rishi Singh Employee Assistance Fund will rely primarily on individual donations, which can come from employees, friends, and family of employees, OnProcess, and the company's broader ecosystem of suppliers, customers, and partners. All information such as how to donate, how to ensure gifts are tax-deductible, and how to apply for assistance can be found at www.RishiSinghFund.com.

"In May this year, we lost our beloved colleague and friend Rishikesh Kumar Singh, or Rishi as he was known to all, due to complications arising from Coronavirus. Unfortunately, Rishi wasn't the only one from the OnProcess family to lose the battle with COVID-19. Two weeks later we encountered the tragic loss of Prabal Dutta. It was then that I promised to all of our employees that we will take action to honor and celebrate Rishi, Prabal, and others, and to support their families in some way appropriate", said Oliver Lemanski, CEO of OnProcess. "Today I am truly proud to announce the launch of the OnProcess Rishi Singh Employee Assistance Fund, and I sincerely hope that it will help to alleviate at least some of the pain and suffering endured through such tragic losses, wherever and whoever our OnProcess colleagues and their families may be in the world".
